History Note

Peter Corroon, the second mayor of Salt Lake County, held two terms of office from 2005-2012. As the County Executive, called the Mayor, is elected at large and for a four-year term in partisan elections. The Mayor's authority includes: The direction and management of executive branch departments, including Public Works, Human Services, and Community and Support Services, but not including the executive activities of the independent elected officials; Carrying out and enforcing the programs and policies established by the Council; Enforcing the regulations, policies, and procedures of the County; Controlling County assets, funds, and property; preparing and presenting a budget to the Council; Acting as intergovernmental relations liaison, exercising power of veto and line item veto, and attending and participating in Council meetings.

Scope and Content Note

The cultural items contain objects from local community groups, recognition awards, resolutions, and artwork from countries around the world presented during Mayor Peter Corroon's two terms of office.
