Keeping Us Connected

Weekly Message

As temperatures continue to rise, it's important to prioritize our health and well-being during the hot summer months. That's why this week we want to highlight the efforts of Salt Lake County's Aging & Adult Services in helping seniors stay cool and safe through their Cool Zones program.

Cool Zones are air-conditioned indoor spaces open to the public, strategically located throughout the valley at county senior centers, libraries, and recreational facilities. These zones offer a welcome respite from the heat from now until October 15, providing a place to cool off, hydrate, and stay safe from heat-related illnesses. Whether you're an older adult seeking relief or know someone who may benefit from the Cool Zones, an interactive map is available to help identify the locations in your neighborhood.

In order to stay safe during the excessive heat, Aging & Adult Services advises everyone, especially older adults, to follow some essential tips:

- Remember to stay hydrated by drinking plenty of water and avoiding alcohol and caffeine.
- Dress appropriately with light-colored and lightweight fabrics.
- If possible, stay indoors during the hottest hours of the day, between noon and 3 p.m.
- Avoid strenuous activities and be aware of the warning signs of heat-related illness, such as dizziness, nausea, rapid heart rate, chest pain, and difficulty breathing.

We encourage all employees to spread the word about the Cool Zones program and to help make our community a safer place for senior residents. For more information about Aging & Adult Services and Cool Zones, visit <https://slco.org/aging-adult-services/cool-zone/>.

Blood Drive

We're currently facing a critical shortage of blood donations during the "100 Deadliest Days of Summer." With just 3% of our state donating, Utah hospitals urgently need your support. Help the Red Cross "Pay It Forward" at this month's blood drive:

Tuesday, July 18

9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

USU Conference Room (S1-120)

2001 S State Street, Salt Lake City, UT

When you donate, you'll receive a $15 coupon to spend (where you want), a Shark Week t-shirt, and a chance to win a New York vacation! Bring a friend and schedule your appointment today! Your contribution can make a life-saving difference. Act now and help us overcome this shortage!

Total Rewards Statements

A Total Rewards Statement is now available in PeopleSoft for each benefits-eligible employee. This statement will help you to better understand your annual compensation as a whole, including the additional benefits you select such as health insurance, retirement, etc. This snapshot will reflect the previous year's total compensation which includes your salary in addition to the value of the benefits Salt Lake County provides on your behalf.

2022 Total Rewards Statements are available now on PeopleSoft under the Employee Self Service tab. Future statements will be generated by HR every January for the prior calendar year.

Management Course

Join our in-person Management Course on August 10 to:

- Collect best practices from bad and good management examples we observe.
- Identify management values and engagement styles that work for us individually.
- Identify several current management models and apply these models in current situations.
- Enhance day-to-day skills that enhance our management effectiveness.
